4-3-24 Horticulture Faculty, Newport Beach, Need Immediately, No Deadline Stated

Description = I am the department chair for the COAST Program at Coastline College in Newport Beach, and I am looking for faculty to teach a series of horticulture courses for my program. Our COAST Program serves students in a variety of disciplines. See more about the program @ <https://www.coastline.edu/student-services/disability-services/coast-program.php> .

The perfect person has a robust horticulture background as well as experience or/and educational background with folks with Intellectual Disabilities and Autism. This program of study is designed for students who want to work in the horticulture industry and includes 4 classes taught one each semester: basic gardening, landscaping, greenhouse and nurse skills. Our semester is 16 weeks long and the classes are once a week, for two hours. The first two semesters of the program take place on our Newport Beach campus, utilizing the campus beds for lab activities. The third and fourth term are held at OCC's Horticulture Department, allowing us access to greenhouses and campus resources.

We are looking for someone right now and I would love to answer any specific questions you may have.

Sincerely,
Katie Stubblefield
